About: Protec Black MOLLE Modular Torch Pouch

The Protec High-Vis MOLLE Modular Torch Pouch (MODHVTH) is a compact, high-visibility holder designed to securely carry most compact tactical torches. Ideal for police, security, emergency services, and other frontline professionals, it provides fast access to essential lighting equipment while maintaining a lightweight and organised loadout.

Manufactured from modern antibacterial and fire-resistant materials, the pouch is designed to perform in demanding operational environments while offering enhanced durability and hygiene. It accommodates most compact torches up to approximately 145 x 35 mm, including models from leading manufacturers such as LED LENSER and SureFire, as well as other similarly sized torches.

The universal MOLLE/PALS attachment system utilises industry-standard 1-inch webbing, allowing the pouch to integrate seamlessly with Protec equipment and a wide range of other MOLLE-compatible tactical vests, belts, bags, and load-bearing systems.
